Organizational Profile

The San Juan Preservation Trust (www.sjpt.org), founded in 1979, is a private, nonprofit land trust dedicated to helping people and communities conserve land in the San Juan Islands of Washington State.

The Preservation Trust was awarded national accredited status by the Land Trust Accreditation Commission in 2012, joining a prestigious group of only 157 other land trusts (out of some 1,700 nationally) that had achieved this distinction since the accreditation program was launched in 2008. Our accreditation status was renewed in 2017.

The Preservation Trust has completed 300+ land transactions, permanently protecting more than 48 miles of shoreline, 28 miles of trails, and 19,000 acres on 20 islands, including land now managed as public parks, nature preserves, wildlife habitat, and working farms and forests. According to the most recent National Land Trust Census, SJPT ranks in the top 30 land trusts in the United States (out of an estimated 1,700) in total number of permanently protected properties.

The Preservation Trust is governed by a volunteer Board of Trustees and currently employs 10 full-time staff. Headquarters are on San Juan Island, which is served by the Washington State Ferry System. The Preservation Trust is not affiliated with any government agency and does not receive tax revenue. Financial support comes from the voluntary contributions of some 3,000 private individuals, families, and foundations.
